Greetings Citizen!

Over the past year, Space Ghost - the superhero host of the Cartoon Network's late night talk show Space Ghost Coast to Coast - has dispensed his otherworldly wisdom and irrelevant thoughts to an admiring television audience. With the assistance of his two enslaved archenemies Moltar and Zorak, Space Ghost has set out to turn the world of talk shows on its head. Interviewing such earth luminaries as Michael Stipe, Lassie and Jim Carrey, Space Ghost has enlivened the talk show circuit with a much needed zap of the power bands.

We here at the Cartoon Network think it's time to share.

Enclosed you'll find "Yeah, Whatever" a very special Space Ghost CD with over 199 drop-ins for every radio occasion including Earth holidays AND, as a special bonus, Ghost Planet Holidays. Have you ever wanted to say something significant on-air just because it's Thursday? Now you don't have to. Space Ghost can do it for you. He has the voice of a superhero. People listen to him. When Track 3, Index 12 advises: "Today is Thursday. Avoid people," stand back and see what happens!

There's more. Lots more (199 more).

And (this is a bribe), if you use "Yeah, Whatever" on-air and send us an aircheck, we'll send you a Cartoon Network watch. Free of charge! Just because we like you.

Enjoy your Space Ghost CD. Take his affirmations to heart, celebrate Ramone's Day and beware the space creatures screaming for vengeance. You can hear them, can't you?

Sincerely,

Catherine Smith
